Sarah Boehm (née Sherman) is an Assistant Professor in the Interior Architecture Department at Florida International University. She holds a Master of Interior Design degree and is a licensed Interior Designer in the state of Florida. Her research envisions the amalgamation of two very important research directions: socially responsible design and the built environment.

FORECASTING TRENDS: EXPERIENTIAL RETAIL